

LECTURE 8:

GROOMING AND ETIQUETTE

This lecture helped me understand that grooming and etiquette are important for creating a good first impression.

Grooming means keeping myself clean, neat, and presentable.

Etiquette means behaving politely and respectfully in different situations.

I understood that people can judge my professionalism through my appearance, body language, punctuality, communication, and behaviour.

As a Software Engineering student, this lesson is useful for viva, presentations, mock interviews, internship interviews, university events, and future workplace situations.

From this lecture, I learned that professional appearance is not only about clothes. It also includes cleanliness, neat hair, good posture, polite speaking, and respectful behaviour.
